IT appears that Hongkong will be favored with a visit from the Turkish war vessel Ertugrous The Free Press of the 21st inst. says she was expected to leave Singapore for China the

A TELEGRAM was received in Bangkok on the 18th inst. announced the death at Zurich Switzerland, of Mr., Henry Sigg, a partner of the well-known firm of Jucker, Sigg & Co., The deceased, who was Italian Consul at Bangkok, came first out to Siam in 1865. He was only 44 years of age.

WE learn from Macao that Governor da Silva has been superseded and recalled by telegram and that Colonel Ferreirs. Commandant of the Police Guard, has received the appointment of acting Governor. Our correspondent says that there is considerable excitement in the Holy City, and p litical feeling runs high.

IT is notified in the Government Gazette that Mr. George Horspool, Chief Inspector of Police, has been appointed temporarily Superintendent of the Fire Brigade, owing to the illness of Mr. H. E. Wodehouse. Mr. J. W. Kinghorn has been appointed, provisionally and on probation, Assistant Superintendent and Engineer of the

ACCORDING to a London telegram dated March 21st from Mr. William Fraser, of Pahang celebrity, the Punjom Company-ninety thousand shares at AI each were offered to the publichad been successfully floated and the shares were quoted at 7/6 premium. The old Company's shares don't seem to "boom" notwithstanding all these favorable reports. There must be a screw loose somewhere.

A LOT of serious fires have occurred in the Cagayan, on the 18th, the place was almosttotally destroyed, one Chinaman alone losing Sco.000 in opium etc.; and on the hight of the 25th, in the Filipinas theatre at Manila, owing to a lamp falling in a dressing-room, there was a panic among the audience. Fortunately the only result was a summary conclusion to the play, and one young lady being squeezed-which she did not object to, probably.

We quite agree with a great deal of what "Inquirer" says, but the publication of his letter would inevitably lead to our being requested to interview the Acting Chief Justice, and it so happens that judgesstill have the right to exercise autocratic and arbitrary powers in dealing with what they may please to consider contempt of court, and we have about enough on hand just now, considering our delicate health, without uselessly walking into the lion's den, even to oblige an esteemed correspondent. We have no objection, however, to answer, in general terms, two of "Inquirer's queries-namely:-What is a judge and what are his duties? Well. a judge is a specially hired servant of the public. and his duties are to expound the law, record the verdict, and when necessary pass sentence.

A MONSTER Chinese procession started from West Point at half-past ten o'clock this morning. It was about three quarters of a mile in length and took close upon an hour to pass a given point. The costumes of the rank and file were as gaudy as usual on such occasions, all the colours of the rainbow being distinguishable. The little girls and boys, dressed "to kill," literally fixed in all sorts of positions, with some of them apparently dangling in the air, would have looked better had they been a good deal less painted. The colouring, like the music, was a considerably overdone, especially the beating of brazen gongs. However, the hundreds forming the procession seemed in thoroughly good humour and bent on demonstrating their loyalty and exhibiting all the Chinese costumes of this and pre-historic ages in all decrees of society from the Emperor and his spouse down to the dish-washer in an epium divan. Doubtless the show will interest the royal party, supposing they have never yet seen the bright side of barbarism in the Far East,

Dors the Hon. Mr. Mitchell-Innes think he likely to glorify himself in this colony by acting like a wayward child on every occasion be appears in public? This person-he is not gentleman and has no pretensions in that direction, although he is Acting Registrar-General and an official member of the Legislative Council-is Secretary of the bogus Reception Committee, appointed without any authority whatever by the local Government to honor th visit to Hongkong of the Duke and Duchess of Connanght And In that capacity this afternoon on Pe der's Wharf he took upon himse autocratic rights which, but for his lasign figured would inevitably have resulted in yes disagreeable consequences. When the Kaisar-i Hind steamed to her mourings, three gentlemen took their places in Predder's Wharf to witness the landing of our royal guests. They were the Editor of this journal, a well known local solicitor-a gentleman by Act of Parliament, the saying goes-and another member of the local press. Being modes, and not wishing to mix up with the brilliant uniforms and other unique caricatures on modern costume repre sented by the three dozen Hongkong male and female fashionables who were thought sufficiently high tone to be; allowed Pedder's Wharf on such an occasion, thes gentlemen 'were contented to remain in the back-ground and view all that was to seen from the inside of the archway nearest the Queen's Road. Mr. Mitchell-Innes suddenly appeared on the scene, and taking upon himsel the functions of Capt.-Superintendent of Police, ordered a sergeant of that useful force to "turn the three persons " off the Wharf. The sergean did his duty to the best of his lights; he politel conveyed the instructions he had received from Mr. Mitchell-Innes, and looked somewhat surprised when he was most courteously requested to tell that most honorable personage to come along and try on the "turning out" business he had so fussily ordered. Needless to say tha the Hon .- Heaven help us-Mr. Mitchell-Inner did not "come along"-he is hardly built that way: but that does not make him any the less a cad and snob of the first water for gratuitously insulting men who had as much, if not more right to be on Pedder's Wharf than he had Now, just a few words as to the persons-the term is used in no invidious sense-who were invited, or shall we say allowed, to be present or Pedder's Wharf to receive the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. Who were they? What are they? The cost of this "show" has to be paid by the Hongkong community, but there were scarcely half a dozen Hongkong taxpayers on the Wharf. Apart from the foreign consuls three or four foreign merchants, and about twenty Chinese, Hongkong was represented by-what The unofficial members of the Legislative Council, and the paid servants either of the Colony or the Crown. It is a curious device - curious inasmuch as it was as uscless for the purpose of shelter as it was ugly and inconvenient for receptive purposes. Its principal feature was the intermingling of the Duke's four initials and the portrayal of a infuriated Shanghai rooster, in imitation of the German cagle. At two o'clock, however, the Kaisar was really sighted, and the scene, as far as the re-assembling was concerned, was again enacted. At 245

the vessel entered the harbor, which was cleared of boats immediately. The " lining of "the fair-way with launches" was a frost, however, owing to the roughness of the water. Immediately on the second signal being given the: principal thoroughfares were cleared, and barrier put across the wharf. About a dozen Government officials and their ladies, the unoffi cial legislators, Bishop Burdon, several Consuls, Mrs. Belilios, and twenty Chinamen, were permitted to wander idly about, whilst all around-right to the Clock Tower-was an uncomfortable, gaping throng, perpetually pressed back by the police, and shoved forward by those in the rear who couldn't sec. anything. The Acting Colonial Secretary (Mr. W. on the verandah, and saw the American mail M. Deane) went off to see if their Highnesses would "be pleased" to come ashore. Whilst they were deciding, the gallant Volunteers "limbered up " and charged the multitude with their sevenpounders, preparatory to "allooting." Several Uninaman were pushed over the Praya drowned in the charge, but that was a detail. The King of Siam was removed under arrest. Twenty minutes later they limbered away again. to another place, causing a few more fatalities. At 4.15 youth and beauty; adulterated with the Chinamen before referred to, fairly filled the Wharf, as the gigs from the men-of-war that were to line the way from the Kaiser began to arrive. People in uniform and out-some hankeringfor knighthood and others scared that some such honor (?) would threaten them-edged to the front, and at 4.30 shouts were heard as the men-of-war manned their yards, and the royal party embarked in the launch, Victoria. As the launch approached, the folk on the wharf edged nearer to the steps, and when the man with the boathook got ready they almost forgot their manners. The Hon, Mr. Fleming, in cocked hat and an uncomfortable Windsor uniform, stood ready to receive them; as the Duke and Duchess crossed the gang-way everybody uncovered. His Royal Highness saluted ceremoniously as the Volunteers pounded away, and then shook hands with the nearest half-dozen. Little Miss Roberson shyly presented a bauquet to the Duchess, which was graciously accepted, and every body-moved off to the City Hall. The route, which was by way of the Clock Tower, was lined with troops, who saluted as the royal party passed, closing up after the reporters. The City Hall was decked with flags, etc., left over from the last dance, The Duke and Duchess, with Mr. Fleming Admiral Sir Nowell Salmon, General McNei and Colonel and Mrs. Cavaye, took their seats on the dais in the St. George's Hall, which was speedily filled by the sightseers. The Hon. P. We have heard of your Highness's services, and we are fully convinced that in the future you will carn-as you have in the past in Bombay and elsewheregood opinion of everyone. Your career hitherto has been eminently qualified to gain the love and affection of all who served under you. Coming, as you do, from a residence in proud Bombay, perhaps at the first glance Hongkong may appear an unimportant colony. But you look around, you will see how the indomitable energy of the European community has been able to transform this rocky island during the past forty years. Although originated by British subjects, of late years these exertions have been ably seconded by our Chinese fellowcitizens -we owe them much, for they have shewn by their enterprise, -by their large investments - their reliance on the government of her Majesty the Queen, and the protection they have received and hope to receive. I have now only again to say that this address of welcome is one which you can accept as a really gratuitous one -it is given, I assure you, in no servile spirit, but is mere'y the expression of the regard and affection of the inhabitants to both yourself and the family to which you have the honor to belong. You will probably pay a visit to some of the improvements which this Colony can show you-we have got docks second to none in the East, for the convenience of the enormous amount of shipping which passes through. Although the Colony is so small compared with that which you have just left I think it will seem pretty good. I will now read the address.-He then read it, (we printed it last week) and handed it to the Duke, who passed it on to his equerry. The Duke, who was dressed in the uniform of a staff efficer, and spoke without accent, then said: --

Mr. Ryric and gentlemen-I desire, in the name of her Royal Highness the Duchess and myself, to thank you for the very kind and flattering words you have just spoken. We are both very sensible of the kindly and loval welcome we are receiving at all hands during our very interesting voyage. I very well know Edinburgh, and we have also heard in England of the magnificent demonstration which took place here on the occasion of the Jubilee of our gracious Sovereign. (Applause). It is a source of the greatest gratification to myself that I should have been able to pay a visit to this-as you have justly said-the most eastern part of the British Empire. Mr. Drummond, of Shanghai, instructed by Mr. Hastings, was present on behalf of the plaintiffs (the owners of the Kung Pai) and Mr. Francis, Q.C., with Mr. Pollock, (instructed by Messrs, Johnson, Stokes, and Master) appeared for the P. & O. S. N. Co. Capt. Jackson said that he had been 24 years at sea, and had been running in and out of Hongkong for the past ten years. He was at his house, 4 West Terrace, on the morning of the 4th December, when he heard a gun. He went coming in and a P. and O. steamer going out, eastward. Whilst watching them he saw a small steamer coming in the Ly-ee-Moon Pass. He recognised her as the Kung Pat, having his glasses with him. He then went into his room again. She was then clear of the roint, about the middle of the channel. He went out on to the verandah again almost immediately, and saw the P. and O. steamer collide with the Kung Pai. He took up his glasses again, and watched them closely. They were then about the usual channel. (Here the witness marked the locality on the chart.)

LONDON, March 3rd.

Gladstone in the Commons to-day referred to the suspension of Henry Labouchere on Friday for language regarding Lord Salisbury in the discussion of the Cleveland-street scandal, and asked that he be allowed to make the following motion: "The House deems it necessary to declare that when a member prefers charges against a Minister, which the Minister denies, such member ought not to be restrained from refusing to accept the denial and from persisting in the charge because the Minister is a member of the House of Lords."

The announcement of the motion was greeted with opposition cheers, Smith, the Government leader, said that he would consider Gladstone's request and let him know during the evening if he could accept the motion for to-motrow.

Speaking in the Lords to-day with reference to the charges made by Labouchere, Salisbury explained that he met General Probyn casually at a railway station and that they had a very brief and hurried conversation, during which General Probyn referred to the scandal. Whatever passed between them, Lord Salisbury said he gave the House of Lords his assurance that he never said that a warrant was about to be issued against Lord Arthur Somerset. Lord Salisbury declared that he could not believe that a man of General Probyn's character would interview him for the purpose of worming out of him information in order to defeat justice.

Labouchere has written a letter to the Daily News in which he defends his conduct in the House of Commons. In this letter he supple ments Hall's story, which was given in the debate in the House, by declaring that after the interview with Lord Salisbury, Probyn met Lord Arthur Somerset outside the club by previous arrange-sent to the front. PARIS, March 3rd. The Archbishop of Paris has issued a decree forbidding cremation. The Chamber of Deputies to-day discussed the interpellation of Dreyfus in regard to the resignation of Constans, Premier Tirard defended the course of the Ministry in consenting to take part in the Berlin labor conference, and said it was folly to question the patriotism of the Cabinet in connection with the matter. A vote of confidence in the Government was adopted by 249 to 200. The division was regarded as adverse to the Government in view of the fact that the Deputies abstained from voting.

Gabrielle Bompard, the accomplice of Eyraud in the murder of Gouffe, is at present the heroine of Paris. She is enjoying the best of times in prison and is absolutely callous to remorse.

Judges and examined on what the French law calls "Le reconstruction du crime." Gabrielle sat on a sofa, smiling and laughing, and showed how the murder was done. She loves to relate to an admiring circle of turnkeys how Gouffe's last words were, "Don't be afraid of me, Mignon," at the moment the noose was falling around his neck, guided by the assassin behind the curtain. When a police official put his head into the noose and pulled the cord she shricked with laughter and exclaimed : "Yes, that's how

"La Belle Gabrielle," as the gamins call her, is at present the most talked-about person in Paris. The newspapers describe her breakfasts in prison with fuller details than they give to those of the Duke of Orleans, She loves chocolate cakes and caramels, of which her admirers send her large supplies, together with heaps of flowers. Being only an accused person the French law insists that she shall be treated with all attention to comfort, so she has good reason to remark : "I don't mind being In Juli, they keep such a nice table d'hote."

WASHINGTON, March 3rd. Dispatches from Pekin, China, announce that Viceroy Li Hung Chang has formulated a project which will mark a new era in the Chinese commercial system. He has decided to establish a system of silver coinage which shall be uniform throughout the empire. The project is favorably viewed by the Prime' Minister, Prince Chun, and has been submitted to the Emperor by memorial now being urged by the Viceroy, the Prime Minister and most of the influential and progressive men. A reporter called at the Chinese Legation to inquires about the matter and was informed by Hosben Chee, who is interpreter, that this questhe pet scheme of Li Hung Chang.

"Heretofore," he said, "we have had only copper currency; ranging in value from a mill to a cent. The Government has never issued paper currency, this privilege being entirely in the hands of private banking houses. Of gold and silver coin of our own we have had none, but gold leaf and bars of gold as well as silver have been in use as measures of value, and when it merchant or trader desires money be could deposit them with private banking houses as collateral and get the notes of banking houses to use in his business," "At scaports the English shilling, Mexican dollar and Japanese yen have come into general use, and this more than anything else suggested the advisability of having silver currency of our own. I think the intention is to coin silver up to the value of $1, and the Government also intends to grant charters to certain banking houses, empowering them to issue paper currency, something on the order of your national bank system. This will greatly simplify business transactions and will be an aid to

JACKSON (Miss.), March 3rd. The Supreme Court to-day affirmed the sentence of the lower court in the case of Jake Kilrain, which is two months' imprisonment in the iail at Purvis and $200 fine. The decision in the Sullivan case will be rendered next Monday It will probably be the same as the Kilrain case, and will prevent the proposed Sullivan-Jackson

The bill authorizing the Canadian Pacific Railway to issue further bonds, to the extent c $6,000 000, to aid in the purchase of ocean steamships, passed its final reading in the Dominion Parliament to-day.

General Sir Frederick Middleton, commanding the Canadian militis, and his conduct in the Northwest rebellion, were the topics of warm discussion in Parliament to-night. The Genera is charged with looting $1000 worth of furs, the property of Charles Brenner, a half-breed hunter. Thompson, Minister of Justice, and Sir John Macdonald said that it would be best for the Government to wait until it saw-how-the-civil action came out, Laurier, leader of the opposition, demanded an immediate investigation. He said that no punishment was too great for such a man. Sir John Macdonald, being pushed into a corner by a number of other members, al of whom urged immediate action, adjourned the Soria, March 3rd. Bulgaria has effectually upset Russia's calculations by her prompt payment of the war indemnity demanded by that power, and having done this she has applied to the Porte to take formal steps to obtain complete recognition of her national character by the European powers. Falling in that scheme the Bulgarian Government intends to proclaim the independence of the country.

Lisbon, March 3rd. The students threaten an attack on Glynn Petre, the British Minister. They have formed a league for this purpose. Their action is due the fact that the Government has refused to withdraw the exequatur of the Minister.

There was a riot at Sclubal to-day. The military was called out to restore order, and fired into the crowd, killing two persons and injuring twenty others. HALIFAX, March 3rd. The Nova Scotia bark Truro, Captain Mabon arrived to-night from Liverpool, having on board Captain Olsen and eight men belonging to the bark Provas, of Grimstadt, Norway, which was abandoned at sea, having been disabled in the terrible weather which prevailed during the past month. Three of the crew were badly hurt. PORTLAND, March 3rd. A contract was executed in San Francisco to-day between the officials of the Union Pacific and Frank Upton of Kobe, Japan, providing for a monthly line of steamers between Portland and Asiatic ports. The first steamer will arrive here in June with new-crop tea. The steamers will carry about 3000 tons. went down to San Francisco on the last steamer to meet Mellen of the Union Pacific, and the contract was executed and approved there to-day. Mr. Upton has two very economical first-class steamers—the Zambest, 3000 tons, and the Kashgar, 2,600 tons, both fine iron ships-which are expected to make the run from Yokohama to this port in from t'irteen to fourteen days, and back in from sixteen to eighteen days. The Zambest came here for a cargo of flour about year ago. Both steamers are, fitted with new steel boilers, and another ship of similar character will be provided to complete the line. There is considerable flour shipped from here now by the Canadian Pacific and the steamer they send here is not able to take all the flour offered. It is expected that flour, etc., offered here and goods brought by rail from the East. machinery cotton goods, etc., will furnish cargoes for the ships. The Canadian Pacific lines have had about twice as much freight offered of late as they carry.

The details of the loss of the steamer Quetta show that the colored men belonging to the crew took possession of the best boat and refused to let any one else enter. The survivors itook other boats and landed on Adolphus island, three miles from the scene of the wreck, from which they were rescued by the steamer Albatross.

BERLIN, Narch 4th. Despite the plausible explanations given by the authorities of the Berlin University of the cause of the recent dismissal of a number of young American students from the institution, it is hin ed that the real action of the faculty was based on a governmental intimation that the students in question had been too free in the use of language held to be subversive of a monarchical government. The strike of the factory hands at Bremen is spreading. The employes of five factories have already stopped work. Those in others threaten to quit. The factories are guarded by police. EDINBURGH, March 4th.

The great bridge over the Firth of Forth was opened to-day by the Prince of Wales. The ceremonies-were of a-very-imposing character. LISBON, March 4th.

Dom Pedro is in great financial need, and there is talk of his dismissing the suite which attends him. The probability is that his suite will soon dismiss him, for the former Brazilian monarch is in a pecuniary condition ill suited to the support of the swarm of parasites by whom he has hitherto been accompanied. His inability to provide for them is one of his principal sorrows and the chief reason why he is seeking permission to return to Brazil, where some provision would be necessarily made for them.

London is enjoying the usual Queen's weather on the occasion of the first drawing-room of the season. Prince : Henry of Battenberg reached here in advance of the Queen and Princess Beatrice, attended by a suite as large as that of the Prince of Wales. There seems to be no doubt that he has been restored to royal favor, and will now be allowed the usual liberty in

It is said to be certain that during the present session of Parliament a dukedom will be conferred upon him, with the right of succession to his heir. Princess Louise also wants a dukedom and the garter for her husband, and it is said that she is making her aged mother's life miserable because her ambition is not gratified.
